	Anyway, gringo audiences always like to pay. If something is flat out free, it seems to have no value for them.
	As far as what this woman is saying and how she says it, to me it has the ring of truth to it. The message seems to be about love and respect for one another and the Earth. Cool pics of the Indians, for sure. However, did they handle things perfectly when it came to dealing with the white devils? Nope. Maybe
